Understanding The Importance of Our Orange Part

The naturally bold nature of the orange part of our personality provides the strengths of courage, confidence, and risk-taking. Our orange side helps us to be successful in life because it motivates us and those around us to face our fears and doubts, and bravely takes action so we don't miss the chance to realize our dreams. When we say "just do it" or "YOLO" (you only live once), we are coming from the orange side of our character. It's the orange part of us that promotes freedom, fun, spontaneity, and humor, so that all areas of life are more enjoyable. The orange part of us brings a playful spirit to everything. The saying "just let it go" when we feel stuck or overwhelmed is the voice of the orange part of us. If your orange is high, you are a naturally brave risk-taker willing to do what it takes for everyone to succeed.
